

• flowing life force & harbour of light •

I created this symbol in pure desire for reconnecting with the feminine power within that forms energy into matter.

In all of us... there is ultimate power to expand our being beyond our minds... and it is time to allow ourselves to become the best version of our being... the most beautiful flower you could possibly imagine.

You have the right to blossom in purity... not holding back any of your unique expression of your beauty!

A dear sister just told me: „ There is no flower in nature that doesn't show their ultimate beauty because it could make another on feel less beautiful. „

So this thrive to show your full potential is a natural way of consciousness expressing itself in so many ways... why would you hold back?

It just doesn't make any sense.

So leave your mind, thoughts, doubt and fears behind! Choose to blossom... choose to shine... choose to express yourself in whatever way you are longing for!

This is the greatest gift you can give to the world!

May we all unfold our fullest potential and celebrate the beauty of every single one of us!
